

A Tonic Free from Alcohol

Are you pale, weak, easily tired, and do you lack nerve power? Ask your doctor if Ayer's Sarsaparilla would not be good for you. He knows, and will advise you wisely. Not a drop of alcohol in this medicine. It puts red corpuscles into the blood, gives steady, even power to the nerves; and all without stimulation. Make no mistake. Take only those medicines the best doctors endorse. Ask your own doctor.

MANY PEOPLE CROWD INTO EMPIRE THEATER

conscience we learn only what we desire. The difference between the two was that one was a live conscience, the other a dead conscience.

Bible Illustration.

The speaker followed with the relation of a number of incidents taken from the Scriptures which illustrated the difference between the live conscience and the dead one—the inner man in one case knowing the will of God and following it instantly; the other showing the man with the stilled conscience, he who knows what God desires, but is not ready to refrain from sin and evil.

"Let each and everyone of us go back to those earliest days we can remember. These were the times when we knelt at mother's knee and were taught the little prayers so sweet and mild and childish that we have since, perhaps, refused with our so-called manly lips to utter. Then do we recall when that first sin came; how we felt ashamed of ourselves, and how in some way or another we could not quite look our mothers in the face in the same way as we had done before? Ah, my friends, that was your conscience talking; and when in after years you have perhaps become more sinful if your conscience has not spoken louder to you it is because you have stifled it.

Hiding from God.

"In this very day of ours we almost smile when we think of Adam in the Garden of Eden hiding behind the trees, ashamed to meet his God after the sin he had committed. But we must not laugh at Adam for many of us are doing that same thing today, endeavoring to cover up our sins—hiding them from the sight of God! "Let the men here think over their past lives and let their consciences speak out. We men and women who learned the word of God at our mothers' knees, who there heard the words of life and true religion, when we go back upon those teachings we really throw the lie into the face of her who taught us."

At tonight's meeting, by request, Mr. Butler will sing one or two Southern melodies.

BRECKONS BUSY WITH MAHUKA SITE FIGURES

United States Attorney Breckons spent a busy afternoon yesterday, going over the figures in the two Mahuka site cases, now drawing to a close in the federal court. He expects to begin the argument in the cases to day and that the matter will go to the jury tomorrow.

Evidence in the case is all in and most of yesterday was taken up settling the question of instructions to be given to the jury by Judge Dole today. The attorneys have submitted a list of suggestions. These were read over and closely debated yesterday, some of the suggestions being agreed to without argument while others brought kicks.

The jury has an enormous quantity of testimony to consider. It may be that the verdict will be given in short order.

Horners Clash.

Attorneys for Albert and Robert Horners met in Judge Cooper's court yesterday to thrash out the sixty odd pages of Robert's answer to Albert's application for an injunction forbidding Robert from disposing of any stock in the plantation company to Theo H. Davies & Co., Ltd. The arguments occupied all afternoon and went over until this morning.

Judge Cooper has allowed an appeal in the case of the Liberty Theater against Blondie Robinson of the Honolulu Amusement Company. The matter will go to the supreme court now.

SHOULD BE PLEASANT TO TAKE.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

The predicted change in the management of the affairs of the Kaimuki Land Company has been accomplished, and Manager C. S. Stanton will leave on the Wilhelmmina for a couple of months' vacation on the mainland. In the meantime the business of the company will be managed by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company. The Kaimuki company remains as a corporation, but the control has been passed to the directors of the Waterhouse Trust Company.

R. W. Shingle, president and general manager of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, has been chosen president of the Kaimuki company. A. N. Campbell, treasurer of the Waterhouse company, was chosen treasurer, and E. N. Campbell, also of the Waterhouse company, is the new secretary. The other directors are F. E. Steere, real estate manager of the Waterhouse Trust company, and C. S. Stanton.

NEW PEWS FOR THE METHODIST CHURCH

New circular-back pews of beautiful mission design, manufactured in Chicago, are being installed in the First Methodist Church under the direction of O. H. Walker. A fine carpet of the newest kind of cork-fabric is being laid to completely cover the floor of the auditorium and schoolrooms. This work is being pushed so as to be in readiness for the services next Sabbath, when the Bishop Bashford of China will be present.

FIFTEEN BUY HOME LOTS, BUT ARE NOT PERMITTED TO BUILD ON THEM

Fifteen purchasers of real estate will today join in that grand old chorus "Stung!" These fifteen have been stung all in a lump. They are the purchasers, according to a report to the board of health, of fifteen lots in a new tract just opened on upper Fort street by Dondro & Lansing. Percy M. Pond is said to be back of the scheme financially.

Nobody seems to be particularly to blame. But then that is usually the case in all real estate deals. This time the purchasers of the lots, which were opened in reclaimed taro land will be notified that the board of health will allow no building on that tract.

For the last time yesterday the board put its foot down on real estate deals of this sort made without regard to sanitary demands. That the purchasers are the first immediately hit is their misfortune. The lots were sold a short while ago, the first notice that the board received being the applications for two building permits for the property. Doctor Shepherd, general health officer, first investigated it, and on his report, President Pratt made a personal investigation. He then ordered the applications held up and yesterday laid the whole matter before the board.

The members visited the spot each of them with a prejudice in favor of the really men as it has been the board's wish for a long time to have building lots opened in taro lands.

Opinion Changes.

After careful investigation and tests, however, their opinion emphatically changed. Part of the land was found to be below grade but this was not taken into consideration. Chiefly considered was the lack of sewerage. Each householder would have to put in his own cesspool and the ground is of such a formation that there would be no drainage whatever. The board saw itself, if it permitted these houses to be built, up against the same proposition as recently when it was compelled to condemn houses on account of overflowing cesspools.

Two and probably four of the lot owners will not be able to put in a cesspool under any circumstances as they are within fifty feet of the Palolo stream. It is illegal to dig cesspools within that distance of any stream. One of these lots the visitors found a house already going up without any permit.

The board passed a resolution authorizing its president to refuse all building permits for property in this particular district until a sewer has been run in. The sewer will have to be a private one. The board considers its action a warning that in future the realty dealers, as well as the purchasers, will come out ahead if the former build the sewer and add the price to the lots.

Professor Kellar, a member of the board, yesterday figured that this tract could be connected with the private sewer laid by the Kapiolani Estate for $500 which would burden each lot very little.

NATIONAL GUARD IS PROVIDING FOR ENLISTMENTS IN TIME OF WARFARE

The National Guard of Hawaii is providing for enlistment in time of war, the first order of the guard being issued yesterday by Colonel Jones, adjutant general. The local order conforms to the orders issued by the war department to all states and territories, and for the first time militiamen. All those eligible as members of the territorial guard may now realize that the national guard is intended for active war service instead of parade purposes merely.

Colonel Jones' order states that a recruiting officer of each local organization will be designated as "recruiting officer for war." He will keep himself informed of all the requirements of his office, and in their annual inspections federal inspectors will report whether or not local organizations are prepared to meet war requirements. All recruits will be forwarded through the territorial mobilization camp when the same is established, where such recruits will be thoroughly examined physically, fully armed and equipped. A general recruiting party for all militia organizations of the Territory will be maintained at the territorial mobilization camp, and when a local organization is called into the service of the United States, its recruiting officer will at once begin to recruit the same up to war strength.

When the local organization goes to the territorial mobilization camp the recruiting officer will remain behind with a suitable detail of enlisted men and continue recruiting.

"Each regiment and separate battalion will, before it leaves the Territory, establish a party to recruit for its organization during the continuance of the war," concludes Colonel Jones' order.

HONOLULU SOON TO BE SHORT OF BURIAL GROUND

In the request for advice regarding their cemetery plot, the Lunaliho Home for Aged Hawaiians yesterday brought up again the entire perplexing cemetery question before the board of health. That the near future will see the last of all present available cemetery space gone and that sooner or later all cemeteries must be removed from Honolulu are two insistent facts which are now before the board and still complicating matters. It was yesterday announced that it is likely that the Pearl City cemetery will be closed down as the company controlling it has been digging into its own bank account too often to support it.

The Pearl City cemetery was started as a check against further burials in the city and the board has been depending on it as its one hope when the questions once more arose.

Now it is all up before the board again, and preparatory to passing upon it finally, General Health and Sanitation Officer Shepherd was yesterday instructed to secure all possible data regarding the Honolulu cemeteries.

Only One Left.

Doctor Pratt, the president, stated that he had been approached by W. O. Smith on behalf of the Lunaliho Home, who said that there was now but one more burial place left in its plot in the Makiki cemetery and asking whether the board would favor an extension of the cemetery's lines or the commencement of a new burial plot on the Home's own property.

Neither of these propositions will be favored, from all indications given yesterday and as the creation of new cemetery ground depends upon the board of health's sanction, this practically means that neither course will be followed.

"I am not in favor of any burials in Honolulu at all," said Doctor Pratt. "I believe that this city will sooner or later be compelled to take the same action that San Francisco did, remove all its cemeteries."

The various alternatives were discussed briefly but they offered themselves in scant quantity and the board realizes that it is up against the hardest problem of its administration.

"I am absolutely against any further cemetery extensions in Makiki," said Fred C. Smith, voicing the sentiments of the other members. "The district is building up rapidly in residences and I do not believe that the board should extend the lines of the Makiki cemetery or permit any new plots to be created for this reason."

Engineers at Pearl Harbor are still struggling with the stuff that Rots Concrete.

SEA CHEMICALS TO BLAME FOR DRYDOCK HITCH

Certain chemical properties in the water which fills the Pearl Harbor drydock site are responsible for the disintegration of the concrete which has been poured over the bottom and heads of piling, and is the cause of considerable trouble to the naval officials and the dock engineer. In the effort to produce a concrete of sufficient durability to withstand the peculiar action of the water, the engineer has imported sand from various places, both in the islands and from the Coast, and still the results are far from satisfactory.

Hard luck has confronted the engineer in charge of the drydock work ever since the first attempt was made to pump the first enclosed section. When the water went down about fifteen feet the sheath piling began to rise. Examination showed great pressure from below. The naval officials made an investigation and after a conference it was decided to "pin" the bottom down with piling. This occasioned a long delay. The bottom was "pinned" down, and it was then decided to pour concrete through tubes to the bottom, where it could be laid by divers.

This method was followed and when the second attempt was made to pump it was found that the sheathing leaked away in places. Better concrete was prepared, the rotting sections chipped away, and the new material placed. Even this has not had the desired effect. The concrete will not hold but rots quickly. All sorts of schemes to make the concrete of the highest grade have been adopted, but none of them so far have proven satisfactory.

Meanwhile the remainder of the dock site is being enclosed in 200-foot length sections, piling having been driven in advance of the closing in work.

BELT ROAD JOB GOES TO WILSON

The Hawaii loan fund commission met yesterday in Hilo and awarded the contract to A. A. Wilson for the first section of the belt road work, according to the decision reached at a caucus held in Honolulu last week, as reported in The Advertiser. As was also decided in caucus here, the bids for the Palolo section were all rejected, it being held that the cost of this section of road was too high.

At the meeting yesterday Commis-
